PROHIBITION LEADER DIES AT SANITARIUM

WORLD MOURNS DEATH OF WAYNE B. WHEELER AT BATTLE CREEK, MICH.
—HEART DIS-EASE FATAL

COMES SUDDENLY

Weakness Of Drunken Farm Hand First Inspired Aversion To Liquor

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 6.—

—The rank of reformers and world at large today mourned the death of a figure unique in the history of the country, a man credited with being the moving force behind the passage of the most vehemently opposed amendment ever added to the Constitution of the United States.
He was Wayne B. Wheeler, General Counsel and so called generalissim of the anti Saloon League, who died at a sanitarium here late yesterday afternoon from a complication of heart trouble and heart disease.

Wheeler's body, which was taken from the sanitarium and placed in a casket, was removed to Columbus, Ohio this morning, where it will be buried later in the day.

It is understood that Wheeler's will be laid to rest near that of his wife in the family burial plot in Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. Wheeler died a few weeks ago as the result of illness received in the explosion of an auto at Wheeler's home in Little Sable, Mich.

Proponents of the famous dry leadership of that individual personages attributed to themselves such universally recognized through conscientious adherence to principles and conviction that W. B. Wheeler. For more than thirty years, he has worked for the passage of a National Law which would free the nation from what he called the "grip" of intoxicating liquor, and since the last decade of the nineteenth century, all his energies have been expended toward that end, from what appeared to be a weak, quasi-political doctrine. Wheeler's creed of bone-dry legislation assumed sizable proportions in the early years of the twentieth century and the Anti-Saloon League became a force that politics would have to be reckoned with. When, in 1918, the Eighteenth Amendment was passed by the Congress of the United States, Wheeler's anticipations and hopes had been fulfilled and he soon came to hold the position of being the man who had led a nation accept as law, the doctrine of his life.

Wheeler was born on November 10, 1869, on a small farm in Brookfield, Ill. It was during his boyhood on the farm, he told reporters a short time before his death that Wheeler first inculcated in his mind an aversion to liquor, the occasion was when a drunken farm hand rammed a pitchfork in young Wheeler's leg. He told the astounding inefficiency and carelessness of the farmhand, a good cousin when sober, brought a message to him to be felt through length and breadth of the world.

Wheeler received his education at Wesleyan College in Ohio. While a student there, he was brought to the attention of the Rev. Dr. Howard Russell, one of the founders of the Anti-Saloon League, who was in search of an assistant. Dr. Russell found the young man in the janitor's quarters of the college, for young Wheeler was going to pay his way through college by taking care of the building.
He also sold books, peddled rug-making machines and taught rural schools during vacations.

Wheeler did not jump at the proposal. Dr. Russell offered him for at least a tender age, he had not thought of making a career. However, after careful consideration and probably remembering the pitchfork episode, he accepted.

That was in May, 1893 and from that day until the day of his death, Wheeler served the organization.

NAT'L ROAD TRAFFIC

HEAVIEST IN HISTORY
Traffic on the National Road this week is heavier than it has been since it was built, according to many who are familiar with travel on the road. Increasing automobile travel, occasioned by the State Fair in Indianapolis, this week, is crowding the highway to capacity. It took a Greencastle man who ordinarily drives to Indianapolis in an hour, two hours and a quarter to drive to Indianapolis, Monday evening, because of the heavy traffic.

CHAS. MOFFETT SERIOUSLY ILL IN BAINBRIDGE

PRESIDENT OF FARMER'S STATE BANK, CLOSED BY STATE BANK-ING DEPARTMENT LAST SATUR-DAY, SUFFERS NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Charles Moffett, former Greencastle business man, and president of the Farmer's State Bank in Bainbridge, which was closed last Saturday, on orders from the State Banking Department, is reported to be critically ill at his home in Bainbridge.

A nervous breakdown, following the closing of the bank, which he had worked a year to save, is responsible for the condition of Mr. Moffett. Following the closing of the bank by state officials, Mr. Moffett became ill, and has been unable to see even his closest friends since. His condition, Tuesday morning, was reported to be unimproved.

Bainbridge friends of Mr. Moffett are hearty in their approval of his administration of the bank during the past year. Taking it more than a year ago, when it was in a bad condition, he has incessantly and untiringly worked in putting it into a condition which will enable it to pay the depositors in full, it is believed. It is as the result of his overwork and the nervous strain that the breakdown came when the bank was closed.

NEWSPAPER MAN DIES OF ACCIDENT INJURIES

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 5.—Gerald F. Doyle, dramatic editor of the Evening Appeal here, died today from injuries suffered late last night in an auto accident. Doyle's home is in Denver, Colo., and he came here when the Commercial Appeal started its afternoon publication, the first of the year.

ICE TRUCK HITS LAMP POST, THEN HITS BIG TREE

GARDNER BROS. MACHINE WRECKED WHEN RADIUS ROD BREAKS AT CORNER OF FRANK-LIN AND VINE STREETS—DRIV-ER IS NOT INJURED

A small ice truck, owned by the Gardner Bros. company was wrecked, at near 8 o'clock, Tuesday morning when it crashed into an iron light post at the corner of Franklin and Vine streets, demolishing the light post and then plunging into a large maple tree.

The accident was caused by the breaking of a radius rod on the car, which caused Gene Haskett, the driver to lose control of the machine.
Haskett was not injured.

The driver had stopped at the Tribby garage to fill the radiator of the car with water, and had turned out and started down the hill, when the radius rod broke. Heavily loaded with ice the car plunged into the iron electric light post, completely demolishing it and then came to a stop when it hit a large maple tree. The car was badly damaged.

CRAZED NEGRO RUNS AMUCK AT EVANSVILLE

EIGHT OFFICERS WILL RECOVER FROM WOUNDS SUFFERED IN RAIN OF BULLETS—DE-MENTED MAN FINALLY SHOT DOWN BY POLICE

HAD A MINIATURE ARSENAL

Barricaded Self In House And Resists Arrest Until Building Is Fired

EVANSVILLE, Sept. 6.—(INS)— Nine policemen and nine spectators were recovering today from gunshot wounds inflicted by a demented negro whose efforts to resist capture eventually ended in his own death after officers set his house on fire.

Wesley Cooksey, the negro, barricaded himself in his home when two officers called to arrest him for an attempt to kill his wife. Cooksey opened fire without warning and one of the officers fell wounded. The other called out police reserves.

Efforts to rout the maniac with tear bombs failed. After eight other officers had been wounded by the negro's rain of bullets and nine spectators had been struck by shot, a police officer succeeded in firing the lace curtains in one of the windows. When the house began to burn fiercely the negro came out yelling and shooting.
A dozen police bullets riddled him in his tracks.

The negro was armed with a .32 calibre revolver, a 12 gauge shotgun and a 10 gauge shotgun. He had a large store of ammunition that popped off as the two story house went up in flames.

Two of the eight police officers were seriously wounded. They were Chief of Detectives Edward Suthelm-er, shot in the abdomen, and Patrolman Ray Langford, shot in the head.
None of the spectators was headed seriously.

Cooksey, the negro, at one time was an inmate of an insane asylum.

CO. SCHOOLS BEGIN WORK ON TUESDAY

PUPILS AND TEACHERS START SEVEN MONTHS PERIOD OF LEARNING AND INSTRUCTION—CITY SCHOOLS AND UNIVER-SITY TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Putnam County schools opened Tuesday for a seven months period of school activities. Putnam County pupils and teachers met at the various school buildings last Friday and made arrangements for the official opening Tuesday morning.

DePauw University freshmen arrived on the campus Monday and Tuesday began to familiarize themselves with the University curriculum. The remainder of the week will be devoted to acquainting the freshman class of close to 600 with the University grounds and courses of study.

City schools will open and enrollment at the University will begin next Monday although DePauw freshmen will register this week.

HUBBY THREW BREAD WIFE WANTS DIVORCE

ROCHESTER, Ind., Sept. 6.— (INS)—Mrs. Edith A. Zimmerman, of this city, is seeking divorce from her husband, Walter E. Zimmerman, prominent Newcastle township farmer, charging among other things that he threw bread at her during meals.
Mrs. Zimmerman also charged that her husband shoved her from the dining into another room, before she had her meals. She asks alimony of $1,000.

THE WEATHER
UNSETTLED.
Sunrise, 5:17. Sunset, 6:09.

DENY KNOWLEDGE OF MINERS SETTLEMENT

TERRE HAUTE, Sept. 6.—(INS)— Officials of United Mine Workers of America District 11 this afternoon denied any knowledge of a conference of miners and operators of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, reported to have been called in Chicago for the purpose of settling the long standing strike in the bituminous area.

FEW ATTEND MEETING OF TAXPAYERS

I. L. WIMMER AND SEVERAL OTH-ERS GO OVER TOWNSHIP BUD-GETS—FIND LITTLE TO COM-PLAIN OF IN ESTIMATES MADE BY OFFICIALS—TRUSTEE EX-PLAINS LARGE ESTIMATE FOR
"POOR" IN GREENCASTLE TOWNSHIP

Failure to levy a poor fund tax in Greencastle city for the past four years, which caused a $5,000 deficit in the poor fund, resulted, this year in the necessity of fixing a levy sufficient to raise enough money to pay the deficit.

This was explained by Paul Albin, township trustee of Greencastle Township at a meeting held Monday afternoon by members of the Putnam County Taxpayers Association, held at 1 o'clock in the assembly room of the court house which meeting was called and presided over by I. L.
Wimmer, president of the association.

Only eight or ten persons attended the meeting in which the tax budgets of each of the townships, city and county were discussed. Although each of the township trustees had been invited to attend Mr. Albin was the only one present.

Through error there had been no township poor tax levy levied in Greencastle city for four years, thus leaving the township outside the city to supply the only available poor funds. When preparing his budget this year Mr. Albin discovered that the township owed the county more than $5,000 deficit in its poor fund and the only remedy was to levy a tax sufficient to take care of the deficit as well as the funds to be needed during the year.

Those who attended the meeting found little to complain of in the budgets. Some exceptions were taken to the appropriation of $11,000 to pay election expenses and the $125,- 000 road repair proposed appropriation.
Regarding the latter it was said that although many miles of road had been permanently improved with concrete pavement, the request for road repair funds had not been decreased. Exceptions to the 37 cent general fund levy by the county, also was questioned.

Representatives of the tax association planned to meet with the county council and county commissioners Tuesday to discuss these questions.

SON OF FORMER PRESIDENT IS DEAD TODAY

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 6.—(INS)— D. Gardner Tyler, 81, son of John Tyler, tenth president of the United States, is dead today at his summer home at Sherwood Forest. He was the eldest son of the second marriage of his father.
Judge Tyler served two terms in Congress and later was justice of the U. S. Circuit court, fourteenth judicial circuit. He was born in 1846 at East Hampton, L. I., but resided nearly all his life in Virginia.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Paul Babcock, Alexander, and Geneva Sullivan, Greencastle.

C. W. Cole and daughter Miss Pearl Cole, attended the State Fair Monday. Miss Cole is deputy county clerk.

WORLD FLYERS HAVE ARRIVED IN CALCUTTA

LEVIE WITHDRAWS INVITATION TO CARRY NEW YORK WOMAN AS PASSENGER ACROSS ATLANTIC

SIR JOHN MAY HOP TODAY

Royal Windsor And Old Glory Ready To Fly From Old Orchard
Mains—Wait Favorable
Weather

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Maine, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Old Glory raced along this broad white beach this afternoon, swept gracefully into the air on a northwest breeze, and started on its non-stop flight to Rome.

The giant Fokker's golden wings and silvery body sparkled brilliantly in the sunshine of a wonderful September afternoon as the William Randolph Hearst plane climbed skyward out over the blue waters of the Atlantic.

Old Glory went down the beach at 12:23 (eastern standard time) p. m., took off at 12:25 and a few minutes later was a mere speck in the clouds in the distant horizon.

Those aboard the ship were pilots Lloyd Bertaud and James DeWitt Hill and Philip A. Payne, managing editor of the New York Daily Mirror.

Old Glory will wing her way down the Maine coast over the Bay of Fundy, by Cape Sable, then overseas to Bordeaux, down to the Alps and over these mountains to the Etrurian City.

SLEAFORD, England, Sept. 6.— (INS)—Adverse weather conditions this morning caused Charles D. Levine, New York-to-Germany flier, to abandon his intention of hopping off for New York in the monoplane Columbia today.

The flight was postponed after everything had been made ready for the take-off, which Levine had stated last night would take place early today.

Levine announced his intention to postpone the hop-off after a lengthy conference with Captain R. W. Hinch-cliff, whom he has engaged to pilot the Columbia on its proposed second flight across the Atlantic.

All was in readiness for the flight when the postponement was announced. Levine had smoothed over a possible rift in his relations with Captain Hinchcliff by withdrawing his invitation to Miss Mabel Boll, of Rochester, N. Y., to accompany them on the flight as a passenger. Miss Boll was reported to have offered Levine a large sum of money for the privilege of making the flight.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock of Detroit, flying around the world in the monoplane Pride of Detroit, arrived in Calcutta, India, from Allahabad, India, at 11:25 o'clock this morning according to a central news dispatch from Calcutta. The fliers left Allahabad at seven o'clock this morning.

MINE AGREEMENT MAY BE REACHED AT CONFERENCE

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Termination of the coal strike that has tied up soft coal mining in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania may result tomorrow from a conference of officials of the mine operators and the United Mine Workers Union here, it was reported today.

A new wage agreement, based on the Jacksonville wage scale, is in sight, according to authentic information and tentative agreements have already been reached by both parties of the conflict, it was said.

That the strike has been definitely settled was denied by C. E. McLaughlin, Secretary of the Illinois coal operators' association.

MRS. CORSON IN CHANNEL TRY FROM ENGLAND

DOVER, Eng., Sept. 6.—(INS)— Mrs. Mille Gade Corson, "The first mother to swim the English Channel", started out from south Fore-land, near here, at 8:50 o'clock this morning in a new attempt to conquer the channel waters. At 9:30 a. m., Mrs. Corson was two miles out and swimming steadily.

Last year Mrs. Corson swam from Cape Griz-Nez, France, to Dover. The swim from England to France is considered to be a much more difficult task due to adverse currents.

The sea was smooth, but a slight fog hung over the channel as Mrs.
Corson started her swim. She planned to swim for about eight hours at the expiration of which time the pilot of her conveying boat was to decide whether the tides were favorable enough for her to continue.

George Hathaway, of Los Angeles, California, a former Greencastle business man, is here for a visit with his sister Miss Helen Hathaway and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Hathaway who is visiting relatives in Parke county, will come to Greencastle later.

Mrs. Frank Bettis, of near Clinton, Illinois who is ill of typhoid fever, was taken to the Putnam County Hospital Monday.

Mrs. Holmes Craver was taken to the New Highland Sanitarium in Mar-tinsville Sunday, in the McCurry ambulance, where she will take treatment for rheumatism.

SLASH $2,250 OFF REQUESTS OF THE SURVEYOR

COUNTY COUNCIL IN SESSION TUESDAY, TO MAKE APPRO-PRIATIONS FOR ENSUING YEAR, GO OVER ES-TIMATES

I. L. WIMMER IN ATTENDANCE

President of Putnam County Tax Association Makes Suggestions Regarding Reductions—John Sinclair Of Marion Township Presides

Cutting off a request for an appropriation of $1500 for salary for an assistant county surveyor and reducing the millage request of the county surveyor from $1,500 to $750, were the largest deductions made by the County Council, which met in the court house, Monday morning to consider the tax budget for the ensuing year.

Requests by township assessors for funds with which to conduct their assessing work, received quite a bit of attention and the several instances the budget figures were cut. The bridge repair budget, which asked $10,000 was lowered to $5,000 while a $200 item for the making of school fund loans was entirely cut off the budget.

These were the only cuts made up to noon, but the commissioners again went into session at 1 o'clock when knives again sharpened to make other reductions.

The budget as proposed asked that $124,556, be raised by taxation to take care of the needs of the ensuing year.

I. L. Wimmer, president of the Putnam County Taxpayers Association, was in attendance at the meeting and discussed the proposed levy and individual items with the councilmen.
John Sinclair of Marion township, president of the board presided at the meeting.

A special appropriation asked by the county clerk, which provided $600 for clerical assistance was stricken off the budget early in the afternoon session. The traveling expenses for the treasury officer were cut to $500 from $700 and a $3,000 item for Tuberculosis eradication was stricken off.

At 2 o'clock there remained about half of the budget to be considered.
The amount cut up to that time totaled approximately $12,500.

QUARREL OVER SHIRT RESULTS IN SHOOTING

MUNCIE, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Physicians at the Home Hospital here today held out hopes for the recovery of William Kindley, 31-year-old medical student of Newcastle, Ind., who was shot five times by his brother James Kindley, 30, who had killed his father, Joseph Kindley, 57, and then committed suicide. The shooting took place at the Kindley home, 8 miles north of Newcastle.

William spent a restless night and was reported as being in "fairly good" condition today. He was shot in the back of the head, in the cheek, in the chin, in the elbow and in the hip with a .22 calibre rifle.

The shooting grew out of a quarrel between William and James over the washing of William's shirt. The brothers had not been on speaking terms since their mother died two years ago.

After a rough and tumble fight in the kitchen James tore loose, ran upstairs and got the gun. When his father blocked his way James shot him twice killing him instantly and then shot his brother. He ended his own life with three bullets in the head.

A 14-year-old sister, Theodosia Kindley, escaped death by running to a neighbor's house.

MAKING USEFUL LIVES MORE USEFUL

The Simple Life—what is it?

Is existence amid sylvan solitude, "far from the madding crowd?" It is freedom from the hum and the hurry that characterizes—and sometimes complicates—our modern civilization? Is the absence of the man-made machinery that has given what often seems to be an all-too-material tinge to the present age?

Or—

Is it our modern life with all the conveniences which science has placed at our disposal? The telephone, for example? Hardly more than half a century ago and within the memory of a large number of people the telephone was unknown. Now, instead of writing a letter which may not reach its destination until the next day, or putting on your hat and delivering your message in person, at the expense perhaps of several hours valuable time, you can go to your telephone, take the receiver off the hook and within a short time, deliver your message in person to the party desired and without even rising from the chair at your desk.

The simple life—is it not that which simplifies our lives and thereby makes them that much fuller, that much more useful and enables us to perform correspondingly greater service to mankind.

SAFETY FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

The schools will be open within a short time, and school authorities and motorists' organizations everywhere are turning their thoughts to the matter of accident prevention among the children.

The average child starts to school at 6, the age at which accidents are most prevalent, and every year brings its hundreds of little one who have not had the benefit of safety training and who are alone on the streets every day for the first time. Children are quick to follow example, and in the work of reducing accidents, good example has been found to be one of the most important factors in influencing the actions of children.

A BANK NOT NEEDED

The closing of the Farmers State Bank, of Bainbridge, by the State Banking department, which evoked a statement by State bank examiner, William Barr, to the effect that the failure of the bank was an example of "A Bank Not Needed," should be seriously considered by persons who might contemplate the establishment of a bank or any other business enterprise. Too often are there established business enterprises which are "not needed."

Too often do persons, seeing some other person's enterprise thrive, decide that another business of the same nature can thrive in the same locality or in a nearby locality. They do not stop to think that the establishment of the similar business will simply divide the patronage resulting in a poor business for two, or "the big fish will eat the little one."

Bainbridge is a fine, thriving community, but the local banking business there is not sufficient to guarantee a successful bank. At the best it probably would not be able to support a bank large enough to enable it to give absolute safety. The robbery of the bank by bank robbers several years ago, evidence of the inability of a small town bank to give best protection.
 The Farmer's State Bank could not afford the investment necessary to afford a burglar safe vault. Both the bank and community suffered from the robbery.

ATTEMPT TO SAVE BANK FAILS

The efforts of Charles Moffett, a large stockholder and president of the Farmer's State bank in Bainbridge, which closed its doors last Saturday to save the institution from the rocks, although they failed in their purpose, did result in a large extent to safeguarding of the interests of the depositors.

That the bank has been in a bad shape ever since it was robbed by bank robbers, several years ago, was generally known. This loss, followed by the agricultural depression, placed the bank's affairs in a critical shape. Realizing that something had to be done, Mr. Moffett, then engaged in a successful real estate and insurance business in Greencastle, gave up his business here and went to Bainbridge, where he took over the presidency of the institution. Since that time he has devoted his time and energy in straightening out the affairs of the bank. At the time the bank was closed it was in a much better condition than when he took charge. A year ago, had the bank been closed, the loss to the depositors probably would have been great.
 Today, it is said that the careful administration by the receiver, and the ability of the stockholders to pay their assessments, there is a probability that the depositors will be paid in full, and that the stockholders will be the only losers. It is due to Mr. Moffett's efforts that this condition exists. And it is due to the loyalty of the people of the community of Bainbridge, who stood by Mr. Moffett, that he was able to accomplish so much.

(WASHINGTON STREET)

(BAINBRIDGE, INDIANA)

September 5th, 1927

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Notice is hereby given by the Board of Trustees of the town of Bainbridge, Indiana, that on Monday September 5th, 1927, it approved an assessment roll showing the prima facie assessments for the following public improvement, as authorized by Improvement Resolution No. 2, 1927, being for the improvement of Washington Street with concrete combined curbs and gutters on both sides of said street; said improvement on the east side of said street to extend from the north property line of Main Street to the south property line of Summit Street, in said town; and on the west side of said Washington Street to extend from the north property line of said Main Street to a point which is 371 feet north of the property line of Seminary Street in said town.

Said improvement is intersected by the following named streets and alleys:
 Summit Street; College Street; Seminary Street; Pearl Street and five alleys.

Persons interested in or affected by said described public improvement are hereby notified that the Board of Trustees of said town has fixed Monday, September 19th, 1927, as a date upon which remonstrances will be received, or heard, against the amount assessed against each piece of property described in said roll and will determine the question as to whether lots or tracts of land have been or will be benefited in the amounts named on said roll, or in a greater or less sum than that named on said roll.

Said assessment roll showing said prima facie assessments with the names of owners and descriptions of property subject to be assessed, is on file and may be seen at the office of

BABY SMOTHERED

AT BIRTH LIVES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(INS)— A baby apparently smothered at birth was alive and kicking today as a result of four hours and a half of strenuous labor on the part of the attending doctors that literally brought the child back to life.

The child's heart was artificially stimulated throughout the period, while the doctor's alternated in blowing their breath into its little throat producing an artificial breathing and gasping.

Dr. H. G. Hadley, Casualty Hospital obstetrician, and Dr. Leon S.
 Gordon were the physicians who performed the feat. The child, an 8-pound boy born to Mrs. Earle Weeks, 27, was apparently lifeless at birth.
 Today it was crying lustily in the hospital nursery.

SEDATE BUSINESS MEN

PREFER QUIET BLONDES

AND NOT BRUNETTES

By International News Service
 PHILADELPHIA. — Gentlemen man prefer blondes in New York, Chicago and Hollywood but not in tranquil and conservative Philadelphia. At least the young, progressive Philadelphia business man doesn't show that preference.

The older and more sedate business man? Well, that's a story of a different color. So declares William Botka, maître of the Hotel Adelphi, one of Philadelphia's most popular dining rooms this season.

"Blondes may be the popular dinner companion in most large cities," declared Botka, "but not in Philadelphia. That is the younger men, show a decided preference for brunettes."

Furthermore, the younger business man usually selects a companion slightly older than himself. It is only the older and more sedate business man who seems to favor the blondes.

"The dividing line is around the 35 year mark," Botka says. Until 35 the men prefer the dark haired women. After that the blondes. And the older the man becomes the younger he desires his companion.

6-TON ENGINE

OF LATE TYPE

TO BE SHOWN

OIL-ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVE TO BE DISPLAYED AT CENTENARY EXHIBITION AND PAGEANT AT BALTIMORE—ADVANTAGES IS LESS COST OF OPERATION

A 6-ton oil-electric locomotive of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will be among the latest type of engines to be displayed at the Centenary Exhibition and Pageant of the century-old railroad, which will be held at Baltimore, Md., September 24 to October 8.

In this locomotive, which is now operating in the 25th street yard of the Baltimore and Ohio in New York City, an oil engine driven generator is used which furnishes power to railway motors, these motors being geared direct to the driving axles.

The internal combustion engine is considered the most efficient form of prime mover at present available. By its use the automobile and self-propelled car have become possible. The electric drive has demonstrated that it offers the most efficient and most easily controlled form of power transmission. The combination of the electric drive with the oil engine offers possibilities for far-reaching development in railway transportation.

This substitution of the internal combustion engine for the steam engine is said to be one of the most important developments in the promising field of research into the problem of continuously increasing cost of operation that faces the railroads of the country.

Some of the advantages claimed for the oil-electric drive is that it may be operated with a fuel cost of from one-third to one-sixth that of an equivalent steam locomotive; it requires very little water, and therefore eliminates costly watering stations and the troubles due to bad water conditions; its availability for service is approximately double that of a steam locomotive; and its cost of maintenance is approximately one-half.

This type of engine has been found highly efficient in back-and-forth heavy hauling in freight yards. The weight is 60 tons, the capacity of the oil engine 300 horse power, the maximum speed 30 miles per hour, and the rated tractive effort 36,000 pounds.

Compressed air at approximately 200 pounds pressure is used to start the engine. It is admitted to each cylinder in succession through mechanically operated starting valves.

The control equipment consists of a throttle lever, which controls the output of the engine, and a master controller, which connects the traction motors in series or parallel for forward or backward motion.

TELEPHONE FACTS

It takes more than 380,000 people to operate the country's telephones.

New York City has nearly three times as many telephones today as it had in 1914.

There are over sixty million miles of telephone wire in the United States.

There are over twenty thousand telephone central offices in the United States.

Michigan has ten times as many telephones per hundred people as are found in Europe.

In 1895 the United States had one telephone for every 242 people. Now we have one telephone for every seven people.

Beloit, Wisconsin, has as many telephones as the whole country of Greece, although Greece has 250 times as many people as the City of Beloit.

In proportion to population, Seattle has over three times as many telephones as The Hague, Holland, the capital city of Queen Wilhelmina's realm.

NICKEL FAVORITE WINS!

Cigar Popular for Thirty Years Now Selling in the Millions at 5c. Smokers Everywhere Enthusiastic

An astounding success, this cigar.
 For years it sold at more than a nickel. It was so good that the demand increased amazingly. We brought it down to five cents straight. Then we improved it. Today more smokers are buying it than ever before.

We want skeptics to try out Havana Ribbon against any other five-cent cigar. Test it for every quality found in a good cigar—ripeness of tobacco used, flavor, fragrance, body, and mildness. All we ask is for you to buy one Havana Ribbon at five cents. Smoke it and ask yourself if you ever tasted such quality in any cigar at anywhere near like the price. You'll never wonder again whether a cigar selling at 5c can be really satisfying.
 You'll know it is.

NAT'L. LEAGUE RACE GREATEST OF ALL TIMES

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The club that couldn't beat itself earlier in the year is the club that may go into a tie today for first place in the greatest National League race since 1908, if not of all time.

Anything can happen now, after the Pittsburgh pirates dropped two ball games yesterday to the Cincinnati Reds to draw the finish even finer than it was before, which was entirely too fine to suit gents with hardening arteries. As matters stood this morning the pirates were first by the grace of a single game; the New York Giants were second by the same margin and the Chicago Cubs held third place over the St. Louis Cardinals by only one point.

And so it became possible today for the giants, the team that couldn't beat itself because its members were exchanging random haymakers in the club house, and making derisive sounds in the general direction of John McGraw's retreating form, to get a stand off with the pirates for the League leadership.

The Giants can do it by beating the pirates this afternoon providing the Pirates finish second again to the Reds. At the same time the Cubs and Cards will battle for third place.

STATE FAIR ATTENDANCE SHOWS A GAIN

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 6.—(INS)—With another big crowd in prospect today the 75th annual Indiana state fair was continuing its record smashing progress. The first three days have seen 101,191 visitors as compared with 86,400 for the first three days in 1926. This is a gain of $14791 admissions over last year in the first three days. Yesterday's 83,167 attendance broke all Labor Day records. Fair officials hope to exceed a total attendance this year of 250,000 as compared with the total of 220,631 last year.

The attendance record thus far is:
Saturday, Sept. 3 .. 7305 7269 36

20 ARMY AVIATORS IN BIG AIR RACE AT SPOKANE SEPT. 19

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Twenty or more army aviators will take part in the National Air Races to be held in Spokane, Washington, September 19-24, according to a War Department announcement.

For the free-for-all military pursuit race the following officers have been selected: Lieuts. Eugene C.

Batten, Alfred J. Lyon and Eugene Eubank, Wright Field, Ohio; H. H. George and Y. A. Pitts, Kelly Field, Texas, and Newton Longfellow, Mitchell Field, New York. The commanding officer of the First Pursuit has been authorized to enter three additional airmen from Selfridge Field, Michigan, in this event. Seven army pursuit planes in all will be listed.

For the Liberty Engine Builder's trophy: Lieuts. Harry A. Johnson, Wright Field, Ohio; J. T. Jerry, Jr.,

Fort Crockett, Texas, and R. Baez, Jr., Chanute Field, Illinois. In addition, the commanding general of the Ninth Corps Area will designate such pilots as he desires from that corps area as entries. This event is for observation planes; the army will enter four or more.

For the race for large capacity planes: Lieuts. Odas Moon, Kelly Field, Texas; Harold W. Beaton, Langley Field, Virginia, and Harry A. Dinger, Bolling Field, D. C. In this race two C-2 transport planes, of the type used by Maitland-Heggenberger Pacific flight, will compete under army colors.

ages, there are heard conservative sentiments, lest any further lives be given at this time in sacrifice to the cause of aviation.

The British press is almost universal in calling for a government ban on ocean flights until more perfect airplanes have been developed.

The Daily News sums up the situation as follows:

"Are these great flights, in view of the grave loss of life, worth while?"

Meanwhile, no further word has been heard here concerning the fate of the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, Captain Leslie Hamilton and Lieut. Col. F. F. Minchin, who are believed to have lost their lives when their plane, the St. Raphael, encountered severe storms over the Atlantic Ocean.

SYNOPSIS

Fabien, good and handsome youth of France, trains for the priesthood; but meets and loves Manon Lescaut, beautiful orphan, who is coveted by hideous Count Ravoire. Fabien saves her and carries her off to Paris. Circumstances force her to surrender to Ravoire. She rejoins Fabien, and they live so extravagantly that Fabien is forced to capitalize a genius for cards. The King plays Fabien at cards for Manon, accuses him of cheating. Manon is sent to be deported. Fabien kills Ravoire, and follows the prison caravan.

CHAPTER XX—Continued

Manon shuddered—it was all so horrible that it hardly seemed possible that she could be alive. Forgetting her own sorrow she reached over and tenderly patted the girl's hand—the one who dreaded leaving her baby.

Manon was the picture of abject despair. Her hair was mussed, the prison uniform was too large and her tear stained cheeks were blotched from dust that the great wooden wheels threw into her face. She had been assigned to a seat at the front end of the cart, almost directly over the shafts. It was dusty but preferable to the close interior where women were crowded together without any consideration for their comfort.

Fabien discerned the little caravan from a distance and immediately cut across a field which brought him out at a bend of the road just as the cart drew near. The guards saw nothing terrible in his approach, however they had been cautioned that no one was to molest their progress, so the leader shouted, "Get out of the road there—we're in a hurry."

"It is not my purpose to stop you, gentlemen," corrected Fabien, "I would like to proceed with you."

"We have strict orders to watch the prisoners," continued the chief. "But you seem a harmless young man and we will relax in our duty for a while—provided you can make it worth while."

"I have only about sixteen pistoles in my purse," replied Fabien regretfully.

"If that case we shall act generously," offered the chief. "It shall only cost you a crown an hour for conversing with any of our girls that you may prefer—that is the ordinary price in Paris."

Fabien made a payment and was permitted to peer into the caravans unimpeded. He was searching for Manon, although the guards did not suspect that he had a passion for any particular girl. They imagined his interest was the indulgence of a boyish whim and that any creature would do for an hour's amusement.

Fabien saw Manon seated in front of the second van. It would be impossible to describe the torment her dejected appearance caused him. For a few paces he followed along, gazing at her in mute agony before he called, "Manon!" in a flood of lost self control.

"My darling!" Manon recognized his voice before she saw him and unconsciously tried to leap from the wagon, but the chain checked her and she fell back in her former position.

Fabien jumped up on the shafts and gathered Manon in a close embrace. She cried for joy and he could feel her tears mingling with his. They were both so overcome that for a long time neither uttered a word. After so much doubt and anxiety it was enough just to be together. Their future was so hopeless that it was better not to talk about it.

Grief and shame had taken a deep hold on Manon and she was ashamed to look into Fabien's eyes.

"You know that they are sending me on the ship to a penal colony to Louisiana?" she asked tremulously. "Yes—" Fabien's hands held her tight.

"I am glad to have seen you before I go!" Manon was crying.

"My dear—I am going too. No power on earth can separate us again. I will find a way to call on your ship." The desire to comfort Manon and stay with her had made Fabien forget for a moment that he was wanted for treason and murder.

She was so grateful for his devotion that a flood of tender emotions almost overcame her. She marveled at Fabien's excessive love and could not understand how she had been fortunate enough to have inspired such a perfect passion.

"What happened to Andre?" He tried to help her. "There was a note of pride in Manon's voice. 'My dear, I know.' Fabien dreaded the task ahead of him. 'He sent you his love and asked me to look out for you.'"

"Was he captured for working against the King?" she asked anxiously.

"Worse than that, Manon. He was—" "No!" she cried in anticipation.

"Yes, darling," Fabien crushed her to him and spoke very softly into her ear. "He died trying to help you."

Burning tears welled up in her eyes and a great lump filled her throat. She could not talk and was grateful for Fabien's silent sympathy. She knew that he understood how she felt about her big brother, whom she had loved and who betrayed her. Fabien did not have the heart to add to her grief by saying it was the Comte's cowardly sword that took his life.

The jolting of the wagon made Manon miserably uncomfortable. Her face was colorless and her eyes had become circled with great lavender rings that made Fabien's heart ache. In a tender effort to give her a little rest he removed his coat and rolled it into a long pillow effect had her lean against it from her chained position.

All the other women in the van were diverted—each in her own way—by this last minute love making enroute to the ship.

When the guards discovered that Fabien was interested in the prettiest girl on the chains they demanded payment every time he spoke. Consequently his thin purse was speedily emptied. He was riding on the shafts at Manon's feet when a mounted guard drew rein alongside again and said, "We got to have some more money for your fare!"

"I have given you all I have," Fabien's voice seemed to imply that he was sorry, but it had no effect.

"Well, you can't ride for nothing—get off!" The butt end of a musket emphasized the command.

There was no alternative. With a reassuring pressure on Manon's hands, Fabien whispered that he would follow along, then he jumped off the wagon and stood at the roadside until the last van had passed. Unmindful of the clouds of dust, he followed along, reconciled to whatever destiny fate had in store just as long as it left him free to live and love with Manon.

The sun was terrifically hot and directly overhead when the little procession, from the Magdalen Prison arrived on the wharf at Havre.

A pitiful crowd, composed of heartbroken mothers, wondering children, sympathetic friends and remorseful sweethearts, were there to bid the unfortunate women a tearful goodbye as final and more tragic than death. No one who had been deported ever came back!

The carts were driven out to the head of the largest wharf and the guards ordered the chained women to "Get out!"

Cramped and tired—broken in body as well as spirit—they stood in a pitiful line, as far apart as the heavy iron chain would permit, while their loved ones gathered around them in small, close groups.

The disconsolate young mother cradled her baby Jean in her arms for the last time and moaned about the injustice of separation.

The hardened slaver, who had no regrets about deportation, looked over all the different groups and sneered. She was the only woman in the entire line who had neither friends nor relatives to weep at her misfortune. She stood alone. A woman whom France considered a menace and no longer wanted, a woman who had given her beauty, her youth and her ardor to men of the nobility and to others; to men who after ruining her life dropped her as they would an empty sack by the roadside. No wonder she appeared cynical, but at heart she was still the woman she would like to have been. She laughed boisterously, all to herself, to keep the lump down in her throat and the tears out of her eyes. "God, it's cruel!" she thought, and laughed again.

RADIO DRAWS DAILY CROWD OF 90,000,000

YOUNGEST OF ALL ENTERTAINMENTS HAS BECOME WORLD'S GREATEST AMUSEMENT—REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE OFFICIAL IS INTERESTING

(By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON)
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Radio has become the world's greatest amusement.

The youngest of all entertainments draws a daily crowd of 90,000,000 and has a potential audience of 1,000,000,000, according to an announcement by Lawrence D. Babson, chief of the electrical equipment division of the Department of Commerce.

Babson made his estimate of radio followers in a report on the potential markets for receiving sets. There are a billion people living within the world's "constant radio reception area," said Babson and fully 90,000,000 of them listen to broadcast programs.

Babson reported there are 18,000,000 receiving sets in use throughout the world. He estimated that each set has an audience of five persons.

There is a tremendous field for radio development within present broadcasting areas, his report added. The department's authority declared there are 200,000,000 sets required to give "service to all of the people living within the constant reception area on a basis of five members to each family." This would establish potential markets for 182,000,000 receiving sets if the radio companies hunted down the "dead" families.

"Fifty-seven foreign countries now maintain regular broadcasting service with Canada, Cuba, Russia, Sweden, Australia, Germany, the United Kingdom, Argentina and Mexico ranking first in order of the number of broadcasting stations maintained and regularly operated," said the report. "Radio broadcasting has attained as great importance in international, national and family life abroad as it has in the United States. All circumstances considered, and has now been recognized by all the principal foreign governments as an important means of disseminating entertainment, information and instruction."

Babson reported that radio programs have a striking similarity all over the world.

"It is not without some basis of possibility," he added, "that programs broadcast throughout the whole universe may be expected to prove more popular than those of local origin."

The foreign programs, he added, contain more news and more direct advertising than in American programs. A typical America program, however, he said, is "likewise typical for any part of the world."

ENGLAND MAY BAN FURTHER OCEAN FLIGHTS

SENTIMENT DRIFTING AWAY FROM TRANS-ATLANTIC HOPS UNTIL PLANES ARE MORE PERFECT—BRITISH PRESS OPPOSE SACRIFICE OF LIVES

LONDON, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Sentiment in England appears to be drifting away from trans-oceanic airplane flights until such a time as the art of aviation is so far advanced that adverse weather conditions will not be of such serious consideration.

Because of the appalling loss of life in recent trans-oceanic airplane undertakings, opinions all through England is undergoing a radical change. Instead of pleas that England equal the remarkable feats of American aviators in thrice conquering the perils of trans-Atlantic voy-
